Walter de la Mare (1873–1956) was an English poet, short story writer and novelist. He is best known for his works for children. 'The Listeners' is said to be his most famous poem.

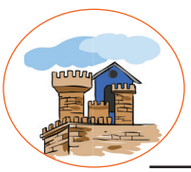

GLOSSARY
champed	-	bit and chewed upon noisily
ferny	-	consisting of flowerless plants (ferns)
turret	-	a small tower that projects from the wall of a building
smote	-	knocked loudly
sill	-	a horizontal piece of timber beneath a window or a door
perplexed	-	confused
thronging	-	crowding
hearkening	-	listening attentively

A. Read the poem aloud in pairs.

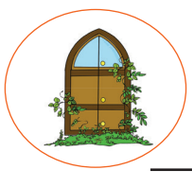

B. Find a line from the poem to match the pictures given below and write it in the blank.

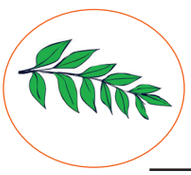

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

7th_English_Term_1_Unit_2.indd 127 25-02-2019 18:03:36